I will be presenting a Spitz tumor with a unique ALK fusion protein that has not been described in the literature in this clinical setting and which displayed a distinctive immunohistochemical pattern. This case expands the spectrum of ALK-rearranged melanocytic neoplasms and furthers the goal of molecular-microscopic correlation in the field of dermatopathology.

ASDP 58TH VIRTUAL ANNUAL MEETING

Register Now (/annual-meeting/registration/)

Join us October 20-24, 2021, for this outstanding educational and networking event.

Message from the Program Committee Chairs

Earlier this year you received a notice of this year's meeting once again being held in an online setting. Although we are disappointed that we will not meet in person again this year, the ongoing COVID-19 public health emergency has led the Program Committee and the Board of Directors to make the difficult decision to hold a virtual meeting again in 2021. Although it may feel like we have returned largely to our pre-pandemic routines, many medical institutions continue to enforce travel restrictions and/or limited funding for travel and continuing medical education. And with so many uncertainties remaining about what this fall will bring, the ASDP leadership unanimously agreed that your safety and health are of utmost importance.

The Program Committee, countless volunteers, and staff have been hard at work developing the content for our virtual program. We've listened to your feedback from last year's meeting and have already made some adjustments for 2021. Some of the highlights for this year's meeting include:

- Five days of education with Optional consultations and seminars beginning Wednesday, October 20 and Plenary sessions offered Thursday through Sunday.
- Ability to claim up to 41 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™ through the plenary program alone (6 more credits than last year).
- More opportunities sprinkled throughout the meeting for oral abstract presenters to share their research.
- An expanded menu of on-demand plenary presentations, allowing you to breakout from the scheduled meeting program to attend optional live Consultations and Seminars.
- A return of live social events including an online gathering prior to the Evening Slide Symposium and the highly popular Meet the Program Directors session.

Stay tuned for additional updates as more details are confirmed. In the meantime, feel free to peruse the preliminary program (/annual-meeting/program-at-a-glance/). Meeting registration will open in a few weeks.

58th Virtual Annual Meeting Learning Objectives

The educational mission of the ASDP is to teach, aid in the dissemination of knowledge and encourage research to improve the quality of the practice of dermatopathology. The annual meeting is primarily an educational one, offering members, fellows, residents and medical students lectures on current topics in dermatopathology, interactive sessions at the microscope, a self-assessment course, and opportunities for poster and abstract presentations.

After attending the 2021 Annual Meeting, participants should be able to:

- Recognize histologic features of common, rare and unusual entities in dermatopathology.
- Differentiate clinical and histological features of interesting, complex, difficult, and rare disorders of the skin.
- Demonstrate a methodological approach toward diagnosis of complex, challenging skin biopsies.
- Recognize important features of challenging cases and generate clinically relevant differential diagnosis.

(/my-asdp) (search)

- Recognize the role of advocacy in dermatopathology practice and identify avenues for involvement to maximize impact in policy change.
- Apply practice pearls derived from the experience of expert dermatopathologists to increase diagnostic accuracy and improve patient outcomes.
- Differentiate clinical and histological features of disorders of the skin that are more common in patients with skin of color and underserved populations to increase diagnostic accuracy, and improve patient care and outcomes.
- Utilize a pattern-based diagnostic approach in conjunction with immunohistochemistry and molecular genetic testing to improve diagnostic accuracy of cutaneous mesenchymal tumors.
- Implement technologic advancements that emerged as a result of the pandemic to enhance dermatopathology practice and education.
- Recognize the importance of visual recognition in dermatopathology diagnosis
- Utilize methods that can be applied to daily practice to reduce and prevent errors
- Demonstrate greater understanding of the pathophysiology of skin manifestations of viral infections.

Dear Sang Pak,

This message is in reference to your abstract submission for the 2022 Combined Sections Meeting (CSM) in San Antonio, TX from February 2-5, 2022, and contains many details. Please take time to read this email closely and share the decision with the submitter and/or other authors as only you are receiving this notification.

TITLE: Development of Orthopedic Residency Dashboard to Promote Systems Thinking in Learners in Outpatient Clinic
AUTHORS: Sang Pak, Cathy Hoang, Alison Scheid
PRESENTER: Sang Pak
SECTION/SUB CATEGORY: Health Policy & Administration
PRESENTATION DATE: February 4, 2022

Congratulations, your abstract has been accepted for presentation as a POSTER! Please note that you may have submitted your abstract as a Platform, but the decision of the Section was to accept it as a Poster. If you have questions about the decision, please contact the Section Research Chair (see below for contact information).

DATE/TIME OF PRESENTATION: Your poster presentation is scheduled by section and your section's presentation will occur from 1:00 pm – 3:00 pm on February 4, 2022

Please visit the CSM Poster Presenter Resources page at CSM Poster Presenter. There you will find the Poster Schedule by Section document with set up and presentation times, as well as the Poster Presenter Information document with registration information, onsite check-in policies and guidelines for formatting your poster.

Please confirm the two items below by October 30:

1) CONFIRM PRESENTATION: Please click this link to access the Presenter/Speaker Center to confirm you will have at least one presenter, but no more than 2, from 1:00 pm – 3:00 pm to present your poster when your section is scheduled to present. Please note we can only list one presenter and do not include credentials. Only the presenting author receiving this notification needs to confirm the presentation.

2) CONFIRM TITLE AND AUTHORS: Review the title and authors listed. If you need to make changes you can make them in the Presenter/Speaker Center. Please note that APTA does not include credentials or affiliations in poster listings. You may indicate an additional presenting author, although only the first one will be listed. If you would like other authors to also present, you will need to split up presentation times so only 2 are presenting at a time. Space is limited in the poster hall.

If you have problems, email eventprogram@apta.org for assistance.

Additional Information:

ONSITE PRESENTATION: Note that your poster will be hung and on display for a SINGLE poster presentation session AND presenters are required to be present at the poster during this time block. Your poster will need to be removed immediately after the presentation.

Any posters remaining after the presentation will be discarded. APTA cannot be responsible for storing or hanging posters for poster presenters (no posters or containers may be left at check-in. You may leave your poster container at your poster board, but APTA is not responsible).

CONFERENCE REGISTRATION: Poster presenters are responsible for conference registration. There is no discount for poster presenters. The registration site is now open. The early bird deadline is November 3, 2021.

Thank you for participating in CSM 2022. We look forward to seeing you in San Antonio, TX. If you have questions concerning your actual poster presentation (scheduling, formatting), please email eventprogram@apta.org .
